Stalin Predicts Reich Will "Burst" Under Weight Of Crimes

London, Nov. 7 (AP)—A Russian counter-attack on Volokolamsk appears to be developing into a powerful offensive which may completely reopen Moscow-Leningrad communications and relieve the siege of Leningrad, informed sources said tonight.

Swift, mobile Russian units are hammering hard at the German forward positions northwest of Kalinin, 95 miles northwest of Moscow, and already have reopened a secondary branch rail line in that area, these sources said, and thus are easing some of the pressure on Leningrad by blunting the northern claw of the Nazi pinners aimed at Moscow.

Maxim M. Litvinoff, (above) Russian commissar for foreign affairs in the days before the Hitler-Stalin pact and a longtime advocate of Soviet collaboration with the western democracies, will be the new Russian ambassador to the United States. He will succeed Constantine Oumansky.

Berlin, Nov. 7 (AP)—The head-on German drive against Moscow has been stopped by weather conditions which preclude major military operations, but in the Crimea Axis armies have pushed within artillery range of the big naval base of Sevastopol, a military commentator declared today.

[By the Associated Press]
Nazi Retreat Reported
Russia's premier Joseph Stalin declared today that "Germany is pleading to death . . . facing disaster" and confidently predicted that within a few months, perhaps a year, the reich would "burst under the weight of her own crimes."

As Stalin thus reflected optimism in the fight against Adolf Hitler's invasion armies, counter-attacking Soviet troops were reported battering the Germans into retreat in the Volokolamsk sector, 65 miles northwest of Moscow. Front-line dispatches said the Russians were continuing the advance after capturing a number of towns against strong German tank and infantry forces.

In the south, a bulletin from Hitler's field headquarters for the first time acknowledged that the German-Rumanian drive into the Crimea peninsula was meeting stubborn resistance, with Soviet rear-guard harrying the invaders in the fastnesses of the Crimean mountains.

The high command made no specific claim of new advances, reporting that "pursuit" of Red army defenders was continuing and that Nazi dive-bombers had smashed positions among the fortifications of Sevastopol, Russia's great Black Sea naval base.

Marks Anniversary
In his speech marking the 24th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution—his second in two days—Stalin told the Soviet people:

"Hunger and impoverishment are now reigning in Germany. . . . Her resources are giving out. The spirit of revolt is gaining possession not only of the nations of Europe who are under the yoke of the German invaders, but of the German people themselves."

Mary Jamison Subject Of Book

Observance of Book Week has brought to the attention of local residents a book entitled "Indian Captive," by Lois Lenski and published this month by Frederick A. Stokes company. The book depicts the ordeal of Mary Jamison, a white girl, who lived out a long life honorably and happily among the Seneca Indians.

Persons in this community are acquainted with the story of the child carried away with her family from whom she was ruthlessly separated, to an Indian village in western New York, becoming a famous figure in our Colonial history.

Though she might have been rescued by visitors, women of the tribe hid her, because they thought of her and loved her as one of their own. She did become one of theirs, honored and respected by both races and finally buried with the Indians. The accuracy of Miss Lenski's story has been attested to by historians.

The book is written for children about twelve years of age and is illustrated by the author.

A statue of Mary Jamison is located near the St. Ignatius Catholic church, Buchanan Valley.

13 STUDENTS LOSE $142 IN PHI SIG THEFT

Borough and state police here were occupied today with the investigation of another Gettysburg college fraternity house robbery which netted the burglar $142 in cash between 2 and 6:45 o'clock this morning.

The money was taken from two second floor rooms of the Phi Sigma Kappa house, opposite Huber hall on Carlisle street, while the students in the building were asleep on the third floor. Money was taken from wallets on dressers, in bureau drawers and in clothing left in the rooms. Thirteen students reported losses, although cash belonging to others was in the same rooms but escaped the hands of the robber.

Entrance Gained at Rear
The theft was reported about 7 o'clock this morning to Borough Officer Horace L. Bender, who later called Corporal George Funk and Private John Thompson, of the Gettysburg detail of the state motor police into the case.

Officer Bender said that the front door of the fraternity house was locked but that entrance apparently was gained through the rear of the building which is under construction at the present time.

The list of the 13 students who lost cash follows: Henry Schwartz, $11; Nelson Arigo, $5; William Fridinger, $42; David Thomas, $30; Glenn Bowersox, $3; Paul Swank, $11; Richard Grisinger, $5; Herman Cronrath, $2; W. W. Miller, $3; E. B. Ashway, $25; William Zimmerman, $2; Richard Young, $1, and John Tome, $2.

Pittsburgh Due For 1st Snow Of Autumn

Pittsburgh, Nov. 7 (AP)—The long-heralded first snow of autumn in Western Pennsylvania positively will arrive tonight, government Weather Observer W. S. Brotzman said today.

But it probably will be light and will extend south only as far as New Castle, he said.

Brotzman first predicted snow Wednesday, then said it would come Thursday.

Seemingly in defiance of the weatherman, the sun shone brightly in Pittsburgh today after the night's heavy rainstorms, boosting the temperature to a comfortable 45 degrees.

BROWNE, BIOFF GUILTY

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—A possible maximum penalty of 30 years imprisonment and $30,000 fines confronts Labor Leaders George E. Browne and William Bioff, convicted of extorting $500,000 from movie executives. A Federal Court jury found the pair guilty on all three counts of an indictment after deliberating only two hours yesterday.

MARINES MAY LEAVE THREE CHINESE CITIES

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—President Roosevelt declared today that the government was considering the withdrawal of American Marines from Peiping, Tientsin and Shanghai, China.

Mr. Roosevelt told a press conference he did not know when a decision would be reached. He declined to elaborate in any way on his statement.

The President read to reporters from a memorandum a paragraph announcing which said:

The President said today that the government of the United States is giving consideration to the question of withdrawal of the American Marine detachments now maintained ashore in China at Peiping, Tientsin and Shanghai.

The Chief Executive did say in reply to a question that there had been no discussion between the United States and Japan at any time on the presence of American Marines in China.

He brushed aside questions whether withdrawal would create a new status for American citizens in China.

"What interpretation would you put on your announcement?" a reporter inquired.

Mr. Roosevelt said he would not try to interpret because there was a grave question whether interpretation was news. When he used to edit a paper, the Chief Executive declared, it was considered the duty of the editorial desk to make any interpretations, although times have changed.

1,250,000 R.R. WORKERS TO GET WAGE INCREASES

Chicago, Nov. 7 (AP)—Carriers conference committees representing all class 1 railroads in the United States announced today they had decided to accept the recommendations of President Roosevelt's fact-finding board for temporary wage increases for 1,250,000 railroad workers.

The committees issued the following statement:

"The Carriers conference committees representing eastern, western and southeastern railroads announced today that while they are disappointed in the recommendations of the President's emergency board in their working rules, wages and vacation disputes, and despite the very heavy burden it imposes upon the railroads of the country, they have concluded to accept the board's recommendations with respect to these issues.

"A full and fair hearing was held before the President's emergency board as provided by law, and the committees feel that in this time of national emergency, in the interest of national defense and in keeping with the President's address to delegates to the international labor office, the board's recommendations should be accepted."

The board recommended wage increases of 7 1/2 per cent for the 350,000 operating employees who had demanded boosts of 30 per cent. The lowest paid of these now earns $5.06 a day.

For the 900,000 non-operating workers, the board proposed an average increase of 13 1/2 per cent. They had asked for 30 to 34 cents more an hour. They now receive 35 to 85 cents.

One week vacations with pay were proposed for the non-operating employees, with the board also recommending wages increases of 7 1/2 cents an hour for 40,000 or more employees of the Railway Express company.

Railroad spokesmen estimated it would cost the lines at least $260,000,000 a year to put the board's recommendations into effect.

NEUTRALITY ACT VOTE EXPECTED BY NIGHTFALL

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—The momentous legislation permitting American merchant ships to carry arms and sail the high seas at will moved toward a Senate vote today, and administration leaders claimed the certain support of 53 Senators—four more than necessary to pass the measure.

Democratic Leader Barkley considered the chances excellent that the chamber would vote by nightfall and return the measure for concurrence to the House, which originally approved legislation limited to arming ships.

Barkley arranged to ask the Senate today to agree unanimously on a debate limitation—probably one holding each senator to a maximum of 20 minutes—after Senator Nye (R-ND.) an opponent of the pending measure, had completed an hour-long speech.

No Filibuster
Nye and other opposition leaders agreed at a strategy conference late Thursday to abandon any idea of a (Continued on Page 2)

ICKES BECOMES BOSS OF FUELS

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—The designation of Secretary of the Interior Ickes as "solid fuels coordinator for national defense" was announced today by the White House.

Ickes for some time has been coordinator of petroleum and now will coordinate fuel problems of all types during the current emergency.

President Roosevelt, in a letter dated Wednesday, gave Ickes his additional job. There was no exact definition of solid fuels, but evidently they would include coke, and, to a limited extent, wood, in addition to coal.

Mr. Roosevelt wrote Ickes that: "As the defense effort progresses it becomes increasingly urgent to assure that the supply of solid fuels will be adequate and that they will be readily available at consuming points when required for military, industrial and civilian purposes.

"Difficult problems are already arising with respect to their supply and availability for such uses.

These problems require the efficient and carefully coordinated development, production, distribution, utilization, transportation and handling of solid fuels."

In the annual report of the president, Mrs. Baker, as acting president, noted the formation of a new branch league at Schaefferstown headed by Mrs. Paul Sheffer. She reported on league activities for the year and made a number of recommendations which were adopted by the membership.

Mrs. Baker urged that each sub-league adopt as its goal during the coming year an increase in membership while they continue to work for the fund for the new organ to be placed in the proposed college chapel, a three-year project for the league members. She recommended also that a special effort be made each year to raise $100 toward the SCA president's summer training courses with each league contributing as large a sum as possible.

39 Names Added

A "shower of jewels" from the convention floor added the names of 39 young people to the league's jewel box collection which had sought 30 names as the goal for this anniversary meeting. The 39 announced from the floor were in addition to 37 presented in the last year. Mrs. Thomas Cline, Gettysburg, was in charge of that part of the program.

The Gettysburg branch of the league was named as the program committee for the 1942 convention, while the Harrisburg league will form the nominating committee.

At an open forum discussion this morning the women discussed the $25,000 pledge which the league has made toward the cost of the proposed new chapel at the college. The money will be used to pay for one large window in the chapel and will provide the pipe organ.

filibuster against the measure. They decided, informants said, there was a better chance for its defeat in the House if Senate action was not held up by long drawn-out speech-making.

The anti-revision chiefs—Nye, Wheeler (D-Mont.), La Follette (Prog.-Wis.), Clark (D-Mo.) and Bilbo (D-Miss.)—were said to have agreed that delay tactics might drive some legislators now on the fence into the administration camp.

An administration supporter, Senator Chandler (D-Ky.), said, meanwhile, that "we must service notice on the German government that we intend to arm our merchant ships in their own defense, and further that we intend to see that shipments of munitions and supplies authorized under the lend-lease act will reach their destination in safety."

Conducted entirely by Chinese women, a Chinese-language fortnightly called "Women's Light" has been started in Hongkong.

F. E. Cremer Named Flower Society Trustee
Boston, Nov. 7 (AP)—The Chrysanthemum Society of America elected Arno H. Nehrling, of Needham, Massachusetts, president, today and named G. H. Poesch, of Columbus, Ohio, secretary, and Harold P. Youder, of Barberton, Ohio, treasurer.

The society voted to hold its 42nd annual meeting in New York on November 6, 1942, and chose the following trustees:

F. E. Cremer, of Hanover, Pa.; Charles Murphy, Cincinnati; and E. J. Larsen, Indianapolis.

Nehrling, now show manager of Massachusetts Horticultural society, formerly was professor of floriculture at Massachusetts State college, University of Illinois and Cornell university.

8 Circus Elephants Die; 3 Others Ill
Atlanta, Nov. 7 (AP)—Three desperately ill circus elephants died forlornly today in a straw-littered tent—their great sides heaving for breath—while the carcasses of eight dead companions were hauled away to a tallow works.

The sick elephants were left behind as the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus pulled stakes and moved on.

Elephant men tried to keep the huge animals on their feet, saying if they laid down, "they'll just give up."

When the show pulled out for today's engagement in Anniston, Alabama, one pachyderm, Liz, was so ill, she died within a few hours. Another elephant named Lizzie was one of the first victims.

State Chemist Reynolds Clark examined the viscera of Puqua, tiny African pigmy elephant, and attributed the deaths of the seven pachyderms to arsenic poisoning.

How they got the poison, or where, puzzled circus officials. General Show Manager George Smith said an analysis was planned of weeds and grass near the railroad siding where the elephant herd unloaded.

Publicity Agent Frank Braden said 18 elephants became ill in Charlotte, North Carolina, several years ago of arsenic after feeding on grounds formerly occupied by a chemical plant. The show played in Charlotte earlier in the week.

REDS FORESEE LENINGRAD AID

themselves, who see no end of the war.

"The German invaders are straining their last forces. . . . German military commentators acknowledged the German offensive against Moscow had been stopped by weather conditions which prevented any large-scale operations—particularly a direct assault on the U. S. S. R. capital.

Earlier claims that Nazi troops had driven within artillery range of Sevastopol were repeated.

Soviet dispatches from the northern front said the Germans had attempted in vain to regain the initiative before Leningrad, with heavy losses on both sides. Actual capture of the city, under siege for many weeks, was declared out of the question without strong reinforcements.

More and more, it appeared that the Germans were in for a bleak winter in the trenches both around Leningrad and Moscow.

In London, Prime Minister Winston Churchill's war strategists were reported to be studying the possibility of opening a new British fighting front, as urged yesterday by Premier Stalin.

Reliable sources in London said plans already had been formulated for a second front, "to be put into effect when the time is considered opportune," and the highly-placed British Press association added the time "might be very near."

In Helsinki, a declaration was broadcast last night looking toward the end of the war with Russia but Finns today represented it as re-emphasizing their thesis that their military operations were purely defensive and would be halted when Finland considered her frontier secure.

A denial was issued of reports that Finland had received Russia's terms for peace last August 18.

Aid From U.S.
Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—The United States backed the hard-pressed armies of Russia with a billion dollar lease-lend credit today.

President Roosevelt directed deliveries "to commence immediately and to be fulfilled in the largest possible amounts" until the huge stores of munitions represented by the credit are in Soviet hands.

This new assistance program posed for the nation a stupendous task both in production and transportation if the supplies are to reach the Russian fronts in effective time, but Mr. Roosevelt indicated definite confidence that the job would be done.

TWO YORK BOYS ADMIT THEFTS

A half hour after E. H. Menges, 459 West Middle street, reported to Borough Officer Horace L. Bender at 7 o'clock this morning that his car had been robbed of an overcoat, gloves, flashlight and a screwdriver, two York youths aged 13 and 15 years were in custody and later admitted the theft.

Mr. Menges said that neighbors saw the pair removing the articles from his car, which was parked in front of his home, and shouted at the pair who fled on their bicycles to Springs avenue and there turned west.

Officer Bender gave state motor police here a description of the pair and within 15 minutes Private James A. Rose took the youths into custody along the Fairfield road.

Questioning brought from them not only a confession to the Menges theft, but an admission that they had stolen the bicycles, valued at about $60, in York, Thursday, to begin a trip to Virginia where they expected to visit relatives.

Thursday night was spent trying to sleep in a field near town, they said. Two quarts of milk taken from a doorstep near the Menges home were to furnish breakfast for the pair. The boys were turned over to their parents later in the morning and were returned to York.

LACERATES HEAD
Harry Rager, Gettysburg, an employee at the Cross Keys diner, at the intersection of the Hanover-Carlisle highway and the Lincoln highway, suffered a laceration of the head when his car turned over about a half mile south of Hampton, Wednesday morning. The accident occurred when a tire on the auto blew out, Rager said. Damage to the machine was estimated at $150.

Mechanicsburg High Here Tonight; Bullets Engage Bucknell Saturday

MAROONS FACE STIFF TEST IN MECHANICSBURG

Hopes for a Maroon victory tonight were given a severe setback when Francis "Pooney" Carter, star end, was removed from the school to the Warner hospital in the ambulance this morning. Carter, who is under observation for appendicitis, is definitely out of tonight's tilt, attending physicians said.

Total warfare will be the keynote in tonight's gridiron battle between Gettysburg and Mechanicsburg high schools which will be played on the high school field starting at 8 o'clock.

Both teams are gunning for perfect seasons as both are undefeated. Each team considers tonight's tilt as the big contest remaining on its schedule with the championship of the Southern Pennsylvania Interscholastic league probably going to the victor.

Coach George Forney has his charges all primed for their stiffest battle of the year and the same can be said for Coach Johnny Fredricks of the invaders.

Stars in Action

The game will also bring together two of the best backs in the circuit. Sadler, of Mechanicsburg, and Ross Sachs, Maroon ace, are deadlocked for the league scoring and each is considered tops as triple-threat stars.

Regardless of the weather the largest crowd of the season is assured with a likelihood that a record may be set.

Officials for the game will be Louis Sheffer, Sammy Angle and Galen Warren.

Punts And Passes

[By the Associated Press]

South Bend, Ind.—This information may not compensate Georgia Tech for its 20-0 defeat by Notre Dame, but the linemen of the Irish, in an informal poll, said the Yellow Jackets had the most aggressive and fastest-charging line they have faced this season.

Milwaukee—Flying tackles are illegal in football, but Coach Tom Stidham at Marquette has one who is an exception to the rule. He is Chuck Peifer, 200-pound senior right tackle, who is an ensign in the U.S. Naval Reserve and an experienced airplane pilot.

Syracuse, N. Y.—Whether it's Syracuse's "Y" formation, or that Coach Ossie Solem has some gridgers who know the A, B, C's of football, the fact remains that in six games Syracuse has rolled 2,175 yards to 716 for the opposition.

Baltimore—You can bet there will be no love lost between Notre Dame and Navy in their football spectacle Saturday, but the scrap will end as soon as the players leave the field. After the game the entire Notre Dame team will accompany the Midshipmen to the Naval academy at Annapolis, where the members of the two teams will have dinner together.

Greenville, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP)—Ray Junk, 1939 letterman, probably will draw the Thiel quarterback assignment when the undefeated Tomcats, hoping for a perfect season, play Allegheny tomorrow. Wes Cole, star sophomore signal-caller and passer, was injured in the Thiel-Ithaca contest last week. Harry Ramsey, center from Erie, has a bad leg and will see little action Saturday.

Maroon Backs Ready To Go

Max Sherman, left, and Johnny Kuhn, Gettysburg high ball toters, are in fine fettle for the game here tonight with Mechanicsburg's undefeated gridders. Sherman missed last week's contest due to an injury but is once more available for duty. His presence will greatly bolster the Maroon lineup. Kuhn has done little ball-carrying, Coach Forney having designated him as the blocking back at which he has performed in great style all season.

WATCH HANOVER COLTS, HARNESS HORSEMEN SAY

Harrisburg, Nov. 7 (AP)—Harness horsemen are in for stiff competition next season and in all probability face another sweep by the Hanover Shoe farms yearlings.

At least they're predicting as much while watching 300 trotters and pacers go to market at the third annual Harrisburg auction. The best words are lavished on the newcomers and some think they may set the tracks afire.

"This is the greatest bunch of colts that's ever been sold," declares D. J. McConville of Ogdensburg, New York, co-owner of Billy Direct, fastest harness horse with a record of 1:55 for the mile.

"There's no question we'll have as good or better season than this past one," he added. "Surely it will be another Hanover year."

His comment was made yesterday while topnotchers of Hanover Shoe farms, of Hanover, Pa., came under the auctioneer's hammer at an average of $662 for 52 sales. McConville also disclosed that Billy Direct had been leased to the Hanover establishment for breeding purposes.

Hanover colts the past season took 70 per cent of the stakes and futurities in which they had been entered before leaving the farm. And in a consignment of 76 being sold for next year competition, there's the first crop of Dean Hanover, holder of nine world marks.

After seeing the first two of Dean's offsprings go for $1,100 and $660, Vic Fleming of Syracuse, New York, who drove Billy Direct to his record, declared "they should be as good as any colts sold this year. The sire was a great trotter and the first crop looks as good as any I've ever seen."

Lee Smith, who won this year's Hambleton with Bill Gallon, a Hanover-bred horse, equally praised the Dean Hanover lot, commenting "I wouldn't be surprised if he becomes one of the outstanding sires with the colts tops next season. They're as good a first foal as I ever saw."

TOUCHDOWN TACTICS

By CARL G. SNAVELY

Cornell Univ. Football Coach

THE SITUATION: Your team has the ball on your own two-yard line, second down, ten yards to go, ten minutes to play, and you are leading in the score 6-0. The game has been close and even all the way, your kicking is fair in all departments. There are no unusual weather conditions and the field is in good shape.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

1. Punt?
 2. Run a play from punt formation?
 3. Fake kick and run?
 4. Running play from regular formation?
 5. Pass?
- (Answer on this page)

the matter will be taken up at a league meeting next week. Columbia high has been prominently mentioned as the school likely to supplant Shippensburg in the circuit.

In Thursday's Associated Press lineup of undefeated high school football teams in the state having played four or more games, Mechanicsburg high, who meet the Maroons here tonight, was omitted. Mechanicsburg has won five straight.

Gridiron Graphs

State College, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP)—A couple of promising sophomores probably will be called on to do the heavy work in the middle of the Penn State line against Syracuse Saturday. Coach Bob Higgins said with exception of guard assignments for Johnny Jeffers and Jim Bonham he will send the same men against Syracuse at the kickoff who started against New York university last week.

Carlisle, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP)—Captain Bill Koch has been benched by injuries for Dickinson's Saturday encounter with Western Maryland at Westminster. Bob Bull, sophomore back who has counted in the Red Devil offense, also will be unfit for action because of a broken jaw suffered in the Muhlenberg game two weeks ago.

Shippensburg high has notified the other seven members of the Southern Pennsylvania Interscholastic football league that it has definitely withdrawn from the loop. The Greyhounds indicated they would like to retain their membership in the basketball league. Definite action on

TOUCHDOWN TACTICS ANSWER

I would suggest that you call for a fake kick and run from regular deep punt formation. I believe that such a play would be sound for the following reasons: The opponents will expect you to kick and are likely to try rushing your kicker to such an extent that a fake kick here would have an excellent chance of working for a substantial gain. If such a gain is made, you are out of the hole. No intricate ball handling is required and if your deepest back should fumble the ball, he should have time to recover it. If the runner is thrown behind the goal line, the opponents score a safety but in return your team will have the privilege of a free kick-off from the 20-yard line, which should enable you to force the opponents back beyond mid-field and you still will be leading by almost as safe a margin as you had when the score was 6-0.

Burly Bison

A veteran lineman with nearly two years of first-string experience, Fred Kern, 190-pound Bison senior, will man one of the tackle berths when Bucknell meets Gettysburg at Memorial stadium, Lewisburg, on Saturday. Kern, a native of Carney's Point, New Jersey, is one of nine Bucknell seniors who will be playing under the Bucknell football banner for the last time at home this week-end.

Donelli Heads For Coast To Join Dukes

Pittsburgh, Nov. 7 (AP)—Aldo (Buff) Donelli headed to the West Coast by plane today, apparently going through with his decision to relinquish his job as coach of the Pittsburgh professional football Steelers and rejoin the Duquesne University team as coach.

In one of a series of "on again, off again" moves yesterday, Donelli quit as coach of the National Professional League team in order to keep a promise to the Duquesne team that he would be on the bench for every Duquesne game.

A few hours later, he said he might change his mind and stay with the Steelers because a snowstorm might prevent him from flying to the coast in time to join the Dukes at San Francisco for their game with St. Marys Sunday, the same day the Steelers play in Philadelphia.

Donelli gave up the Duquesne coaching position five weeks ago after Elmer Layden, National Professional League commissioner, ruled he could not hold the Duquesne job and accept a position as coach of the Steelers, too.

When Donelli disclosed he intended to accompany the Duquesne team to the St. Mary's game, Layden told him that if he did he'd have to quit as coach of the Steelers.

BISONS LOOM AS TOUGH FOE FOR BULLETS

Gettysburg college will attempt to get back into its winning stride Saturday afternoon when it clashes with the Bucknell university eleven at Lewisburg.

Harold Sherman, fullback, leading ground gainer in each game this season for the Bullets has become a doubtful starter due to injuries received in the Lafayette contest.

Tony Yovicin and Moe Murtoff, ends, and Roger Smith, center, also injured last week, are expected to be available.

Bucknell has enjoyed a successful season to date with victories over Lebanon Valley, Muhlenberg, Boston university and Western Maryland. Defeats were suffered at the hands of Penn State and Temple.

Both Down Terrors

The clashing teams Saturday have met but one common rival. The Bullets upset Western Maryland 19-0 in their opening game while the Thundering Herd stamped to a 27-6 victory over the Terrors last Saturday.

Saturday's game will mark the 29th meeting between the teams in a series which opened in 1893. Bucknell has a wide margin with 20 wins, six losses and two ties. Last year the Bisons won 20-7.

Coaches Bream and Beeson will leave with their squad Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. A light meal will be served in Harrisburg at 10:30 after which the squad will go directly to the Bucknell stadium for the game.

The college band will accompany the team.

Lancaster, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP)—Franklin and Marshall's Diplomats had the word of their coach today that they can expect a tough afternoon against Lebanon Valley. Coach Al Holman, juggling a makeshift lineup of sophomores and juniors to effect a strong starting combination, recalled that Lebanon Valley trounced Albright by two touchdowns while the best the Diplomats could do was a nose-out victory.

Allentown, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP)—Muhlenberg today was determined to run its victory string to five straight over the Lehigh Engineers. Coach Al Julian, ordering the squad to taper off after several days of hard practice, said it would be at full strength for Saturday's Bethlehem engagement.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
New York, Nov. 7 — From what we hear, Minnesota's sleeper play against Northwestern was a comparatively simple maneuver compared with some. . . . For instance Bert Fenenga, a St. Louis high school coach, comes up with a "mystery play" which calls for a runner to go toward the sidelines and then bat (not pass) the ball forward and out of bounds. He says it has been ruled legal because the ball isn't passed, and, of course, the ball belongs to the side that touched it last.

Fullerton

. . . In Portsmouth, Virginia, a couple of weeks ago, a high school player named Stampy Caprio slid over to the sidelines and tried to hide. The loudspeaker boomed out: Caprio is not leaving the game. . . . moment later the announcer corrected himself and said: "Sorry, Caprio is not leaving the game." It wasn't until then that the other team spotted the sleeper.

Arkansas-Rice—Truth and Arkansas, crushed to earth will Rice again.

Minnesota-Nebraska—If Minnesota loses this one, Neber Aska Gopher what happened.

Stanford-Southern California—USC would like to win this but the Trojans won't Stanford.

Emil Heintz, who was watching that pro game, when Red Friesell's leg was busted, figures it was a tough assignment. "Before I had time to blow my whistle," he relates, "one of the Dodgers yelled over: 'Better call 'em right. You know we're breaking officials' legs tonight.'"

CLEANING THE CUFF
Running hoss folks would be small to copy the latest move of the U. S. Trotting association, which has decided to mark horses with inconspicuous brands to prevent ringing. . . . Chet Gladchuk, last year's all-America center, is getting a trial as second-string tackle with the pro Giants. . . . Broadway gossip says Babe Ruth is about to take over one of the better-known taverns and set up as a rival to Jack Dempsey. . . . Billy Rogell, ex-Tiger shortstop, and Gus Dorais, Detroit U. coach, ran third and fourth among nine guys selected to the Detroit city council Tuesday.

Barker, Without Fear And Hope, Picks Navy To Win

By HERB BARKER

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—Without fear, and certainly without hope, here are this corner's guesses on the week's football program:

Navy-Notre Dame: Both undefeated though both have been tied. Notre Dame has one very good team; Navy has two. The Tars have no passer as effective as Angelo Bertelli has been at various times this season and on a dry field that edge might be decisive. Still it's a guess at best and we'll take Navy.

Tulane-Alabama: No matter what the records may say, these two look like the Southeast's two most powerful arrays. Alabama's Jimmy Nelson has few, if any, superiors as an all-around threat but Tulane, when it clicks, seems unstoppable. Extremely doubtfully, Tulane.

Southern California-Stanford: No reason, on the records, to look farther than Frankie Albert and Stanford.

Baylor-Texas: Jack Wilson is one of the season's great backs but football is no one-man game. It looks like Texas by whatever score it chooses.

Minnesota-Nebraska: The Huskers have gone 'way back. Crippled or not, Minnesota seems a sure thing. Harvard-Army: Certainly the spot for an upset but off its showing against Notre Dame, Army ranks the next.

Pitt-Fordham: Probably much closer than could have been expected earlier this season but Fordham easily gets the call.

Texas A. and M.—Southern Methodist: Dangerous threat to the Aggies but we'll string along with A. and M.

Davidson-Duke: Should be just a workout for Duke.

Ohio State-Wisconsin: The Badgers can score but their defense looks porous. Taking Ohio State.

Northwestern-Indiana: No possible pick but Northwestern here.

Auburn-Mississippi State: Probably extremely close despite Mississippi State's undefeated status. State, without much conviction.

Louisiana State-Mississippi: Ole Miss looks good now and rates the nod in a close one.

Cornell-Yale: The Big Red's going through a shakeup but what?

Cornell:

New York University-Missouri: No rest for the Violets. Missouri.

Pennsylvania-Columbia: Probably very close. Fighting off a strong inclination to pick the Lions, this ballot is cast for Penn.

Princeton-Dartmouth: Dartmouth has the backfield strength to cash in on Princeton's lack of speed. Or so it seems to this corner.

Dartmouth:

West Virginia-Kansas: Taking West Virginia without much assurance.

Illinois-Iowa: Even Stephen Iowa.

Purdue-Michigan State: The Boiler-makers luck is due to change.

Purdue:

Detroit-Marquet: Just a guess. Detroit.

Kansas State-South Carolina: Ditto.

South Carolina:

Oklahoma-Iowa State: Oklahoma looks much too strong.

Rice-Arkansas: Probably very close.

Rice:

California-Washington: You'll go crazy if you look at the comparative scores on this one.

Strictly out of the hat, California.

Oregon State-U.C.L.A.: This one's in the far north. Oregon State.

Washington State-Idaho: Taking State.

Florida-Georgia: Probably close.

Georgia:

Tech-Kentucky: Taking Tech.

St. Mary's-Duquesne: Despit the long trip, Duquesne.

Brown-Holy Cross: The Crusaders are due to get organized again.

Holy Cross:

Today's Talk

BETTER THINGS AHEAD
You never run into complaining people among those who have plenty to do—and who get fun out of the doing.

People with something interesting to work out are forever being stimulated. And no matter how trivial the task—if it is worth while at all—something is learned that leads to a step ahead and to better things.

Creative minds pay no attention to the failures of yesterday, and if a tearing down today suggests a way for a better building tomorrow, then that becomes the program.
We are forever learning. The road of experience becomes smoother and less rugged as we travel into the years.

There are no dark days for the man or woman of vision. Better things are always ahead. To think constructively is to give every faculty of the mind and every organ of the physical body a free chance to go ahead. Your will alone sets the pace and the limits to your destiny.

Clutter your mind with petty details that cause you to worry—and which keep giving you "the run-around," and you are sure to devalue your efficiency. Cheerfulness is always an asset. A sour face radiates gloom.

History teaches nothing if it doesn't teach progress. There have always been periods of darkness, discouragement, and apparent despair. But there have been those whose minds and hearts lifted them high so as to see the better things ahead. God has always been in His heaven—and there have been those who have seen Him there!

There are roads and means out of every sorrow and every defeat.
And each one of those roads looks clearer and less difficult with each sunrise!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "A Kindly Tolerance."

Scarcely a year of her life taken

Ellen Elizabeth's sleeping all night!

Hark to her grandmothers bragging

Eating a cracker and sipping a cup."
This in their language is termed

What's more important than this

Food For Defense: Farmers Learn Tricks For Upping Output

GOAL: HIGHEST PRODUCTION IN U.S. HISTORY

BY JOHN GROVER

AP Feature Service Writer
WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—When they pass out the medals after this emergency, some U. S. farmers and scientists who never heard a gun should get a hatful.

Scientists are doing the quarterbacking and the farmers are carrying the ball in this food-for-defense program. The goal is the greatest production of farm products in U. S. history in 1942. It will keep America and Britain eating at par next year if it's successful.

The 1942 quotas pile a backbreaking job on American farmers. They're asked to produce double normal harvests of some commodities.
To make it harder, the metals and chemicals shortages threaten supplies of farm machinery and fertilizers. There's already a shortage of farm labor in some districts.

To top it off, they've got to abandon familiar, overproduced crops to grow unfamiliar temperamental groceries. Farmers who have devoted their lives to raising cotton may change to soybean production. That's like asking a lifelong plumber to do a snappy job of bricklaying tomorrow.

The department of agriculture research and experimental staffs are the best agricultural scientists in the world. For more than 50 years they've been patiently, quietly raising production and efficiency standards on U. S. farms.

LAISON officers between the laboratories and the nation's farms are the county farm agents.
It's their job to see that farmers get the dope on the production shortcuts in time to do some good.

Breakdown analysis of the production problem shows three prime ways to boost output. First, increase acreage or other production units; second, produce more per acre; third, eliminate waste.

The scientist-farmer partnership is using all three in the more-food war.

They're stepping up the acreage of soybeans, peanuts and vegetable oil sources. Plus that, "ag" research has increased production of soybeans per acre to 18 bushels from an average of ten. Increased acreage plus increased yield will up soybean harvests 100 per cent next year, if average weather prevails.

The scientists found, for instance, that some soybean varieties were strictly union. Work 'em overtime, and they quit cold. Varieties that thrived in the deep south wouldn't produce up north. Reason was, northern summer days are considerably longer, and the southern varieties weren't used to that extra daylight. They're working to eliminate that growth-limiting factor now.

Increased dairy production means scientific feeding. There isn't time to breed a new generation of heifers for production right now. The need is desperate. More milk per cow, through increased feeding, is the answer.

THE farm scientists also think they've got something big in a new growth stimulant food in corn pollen. Vice president Henry A.
Wallace, who is practically "Mr.
Corn" himself in his native Iowa, suggested the research. They take corn pollen, gather by bees, and soak it in ether. The gummy residue is chock full of "X," a mysterious what-is-it that makes plants grow like Jack's beanstalk.

They don't know what it is. They do know a little bit dabbed on the stem of a growing plant makes it shoot up in a way to make mushrooms livid with envy. Bureau of plant industry chemists are busting their galleuses now to isolate "X" and make it practical. It might even be ready, with luck, in time to boost food-for-defense totals.

There are other ways the scientific planners, with farm cooperation, are fertilizing crops with brains.

County agents are singing a song of farm gardens. They want more than 5,000,000 big vegetable gardens on farms in 1942. Greenstuff that 5,000,000 farm families would buy in cans will be produced at home, releasing that amount for current needs and the stockpiles.

They're suggesting that whole milk be shipped to creameries.
Dairymen now ordinarily separate the cream from the farm, ship that,
and feed the skim milk to hogs.

SMART farming is helping to prevent a fertilizer shortage.
There'll be an increase in cover crops, to be plowed back into the soil for their vital nitrogen.

Hogs are being fed until they reach heavier weights. In normal times, the 225-pound hog is ideal.
Now it's sound economy to feed 'em longer for lard-heavy hogs. Same thing with chickens for meat. Lard and canned chicken are on the "must" list of defense foods.

Feed stocks have been surveyed in every producing area. Where local production is short, and a scarcity threatens, they've moved in supplies from surplus holdings.

They used their heads, too, and

East Berlin

East Berlin—Mr. and Mrs. Glen Herman, West King street, are entertaining Mrs. Herman's grandfather, Robert Fleming, of Belair, Maryland, at their home this week.
Pallbearers for Mrs. David E.
Border, who was buried Wednesday afternoon, were Calvin Nitchman, Bert Stambaugh, Edward Livingston and Elmer Spangler, all of East Berlin. Mrs. Border was interred in the cemetery of Holtzschwamm Union church of which she was a long-time member of the Reformed congregation. The pastor, the Rev.
E. V. Strasbaugh, conducted the services at Holtzschwamm church.

The Misses Beulah and Beatrice Myers, Harrisburg teachers, have returned to that city after spending a short visit here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Myers, Abbots-town street.

Miss Helen E. Sinner, who has spent several months at Atlantic City, New Jersey, where she had a position, returned to her home over the week-end. Miss Sinner will spend some time at her home and that of her sister, Mrs. Fred Diehl, and family, Bedford county.

Visitors in town over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jacobs, of Bangor, Pa., who visited at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Jacobs, and also with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip W.
Hodgson, near Dover. Other guests at the Jacobs home at the same time were their elder son, Lewis, and his wife and daughter, Beverly, also of Bangor.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sinner have been visitors in Harrisburg with their son, Jack, and with Mrs. Sinner's relatives, the Stambaugh family.

Charles A. Grove, of near East Berlin, entertained Sunday in honor of his recently married daughter, Mrs. Robert Nell, and her husband.
Three other daughters of Mr. Grove,
the Misses Mae, Dorothy and Louise Grove, assisted in entertaining at the dinner which was served to these guests: Miss Fern Wise and Lloyd Grove, both of Harrisburg;
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur King, of near York; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith, of near East Berlin; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Diehl and daughter, Phyllis, of Everett, and Miss Helen E. Sinner, of East Berlin.

No improvement is noted in the condition of Mrs. Luther Lau, who is critically ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Verne Y. Brandt, Abbottstown street. Mrs. Lau has been in poor health for some time and suffers from a heart condition.

The congregations of the Zwingle Reformed church in East Berlin and
St. Paul's Reformed church at Red Run, near East Berlin, report that their Communion services conducted on Sunday were well attended.

The organization of Trinity Lutheran church, known as Children of the Church, with the similar organization of the Lutheran church of Abbottstown, joined in the pro-shipping the grain in before the fall shortage of freight cars. They're using their heads all the time in this food-for-defense program.

TREASURERS TO AID INQUIRY

Harrisburg, Nov. 7 (AP)—Present and past state treasurers today offered to throw open department records to an investigation by the attorney general, following a statement by Governor James that an inquiry had disclosed misappropriation of $30,000 in state funds.

James said that in several cases the records of the transactions
"seem to have been stolen."

The investigation was opened by Attorney General Claude T. Reno, who said Clifford G. Baugher, resigned deputy state treasurer, had admitted forging the name of Leo Werner, Harrisburg postmaster, to two checks totaling $13,000. Baugher, recovering from an operation in an Erie hospital, was quoted there as denying the admission.

Reno has issued warrants for the arrest of Baugher upon his recovery, charging him with forgery and embezzlement.

James said five separate checks were involved and "a large share of the money appears to have gone into private pockets." Four of the checks, he said, "involved the Baugher case."

Auditor General E. Clair Ross said he informed Reno that the requisitions from the state treasurer for $5,000 each to be paid to the Erie postmaster were missing from his files. Ross was state treasurer until succeeded by C. Harold Wagner last May. Both are Democrats.

The bishop, a cousin of Dr. A.

"Food Will Write The Peace"

Already American farmers in all parts of the country are responding to their nation's call for more food—food for better diets here at home in this defense period, food for the British people who are fighting in the front line against Hitlerism, food for stockpiles against the day when peace comes and the half-starved people of Europe will look to us for help.

Food will win the war and write the peace. It is an essential weapon in the battle for freedom. The American farmer is the one man in the world who can forge this particular weapon.

Production goals for 1942 call for the greatest farm output of any single year. Although we need less of some crops, we need so much more of many food products that the general trend of production will be up. This increase will have to be made in the face of shortages of equipment, materials and regional scarcities of farm labor. But I am confident that farmers will surmount those difficulties and meet the production goals.

The great agricultural adjustments which now are taking place are one of the most important developments of our time. It is no short-time move. There will be no back-tracking after the war is won. The full output of America's farms will be needed in the future to meet the nutritional needs of our own people more adequately than in the past. We never can turn back to the days of unsold farm surpluses and hungry people.

CLAUDE R. WICKARD
Secretary of Agriculture.

SUGGESTS TAX ON ALL INCOMES

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—A "withholding" tax on all personal incomes was proposed by Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the senate finance committee today after congressional leaders had decided to delay action temporarily on treasury suggestions for a new revenue bill.

George took the position that sooner or later congress would have to face the necessity of raising more taxes to offset in part expected expenditures of $3,000,000,000 a month in the next fiscal year. For that reason, he told reporters, he favored not only a payroll levy but a similar tax on all personal receipts.

The treasury was reported to have suggested that upwards of $4,800,000,000 in new revenues be added to the $3,500,000,000 piled on the nation's tax bill when congress enacted steeper levies last summer.

One of the treasury suggestions was said to call for a 15 per cent payroll tax, collected at the source. This amount, to be deducted from the worker's weekly or monthly pay check, would be in addition to whatever regular income tax he is now obliged to pay.

George said that while he would have no objection to such procedure, if it was worked out equitably, he did not think salaried persons should bear all of this additional tax burden.

Books Reported In Constant Use

Only ten of the 50 books purchased for distribution from the offices of Ira Y. Baker, Adams county school superintendent, in the court house, are now on the shelves and it is reported from the office that an average of 80 per cent of the books are at all times in circulation.

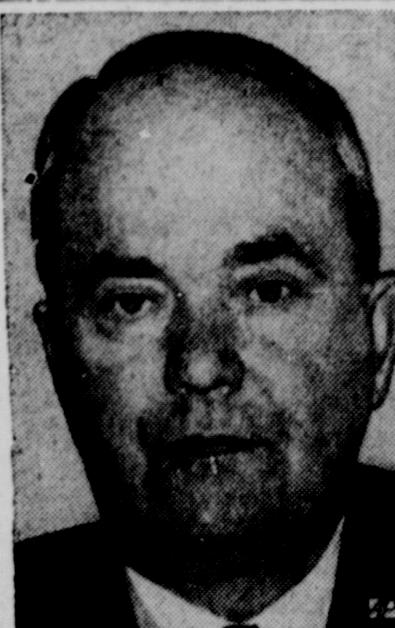

The books, which were purchased as the beginning of the Adams County Rural schools library project and which is being sponsored by the Adams County Federation of Women's clubs, are available to the teachers of the 94 rural schools in the county. While the books were bought for the use of the first and second grade pupils in particular, reports are to the effect that the upper class children are also using and enjoying them. To date the teachers whose schools are located near Gettysburg or who pass through Gettysburg to reach their schools are the ones making most use of the library at present. Books are taken out for a period of two weeks and most teachers require that books be kept in the school.

Large books, profusely illustrated, have been found to be most popular with children.

Miss Romaine Delp is in charge of the distribution of books at the office.

CRUISER DAMAGED

Philadelphia, Nov. 7 (AP)—A small fire in an electric cable running to an acetylene torch on board the cruiser Wilkes-Barre, now under construction, brought all available fire apparatus in northeast Philadelphia to Cramps shipyard last night. More than a score of engines answered the call. Officials said damage was negligible and that work on the vessel was not halted.

RETORT—When a woman complained to Frank A. Goodwin, Massachusetts' fiery motor vehicle registrar, that traffic rules were turning her hair gray, Goodwin said: "My records show the woman is 41. It's about time she had a few gray hairs."

Cookbooklet OF THE WEEK

From Sandwiches To Roasts, Ham Is Easy And Popular Meat Dish

You can start with a whole baked ham for Sunday dinner and wind up the week with a series of tempting and delicious variations from the left-overs. Best of all, the new Cookbooklet on meats will show you how to be so skillful about it that no one will suspect that you are using left-overs.

"250 Ways to Prepare Meat" is the eighth Cookbooklet in The Gettysburg Times' series of 20 being released one each week. It's packed with interesting suggestions that are new and exciting and economical as off any excess fat and turn out upside down on serving platter. Serves 4 to 6.

Another new way to serve ham is in this combination:

Cranberry Ham Slice
1 slice ham (1 to 2 inches thick), whole cloves, 1½ cups cranberries, ¾ cup strained honey.

Trim ham and insert cloves into fat. Wash cranberries, dry and mix with honey. Pour over ham and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 1½ hours or until ham is tender. Baste occasionally with liquid in pan. One center slice serves 6.

You may obtain your Meat Booklet, by presenting one coupon from page 2 of The Gettysburg Times with 10c at redemption station. To order by mail, send one coupon and 15c. for each booklet, 10c. for book; 5c. for postage and handling) to Cookbooklet Department, The Gettysburg Times, Gettysburg, Pa.

Upside-Down Ham Loaf
1½ tablespoons fat, 4 tablespoons brown sugar, 1 cup bread or cereal crumbs, 1 tablespoon mustard, 3 apples, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 2 cups ground cooked ham, 1 egg, 1 pound ground fresh ham, 1 cup milk.

Melt fat and sugar in heavy skillet and cover with ½ inch thick slices of pared, cored apples. Brown fruit slightly.

Combine all other ingredients and spread over apples. Pat down firmly and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 45 minutes. Pour

Charleston Chemical Blast Kills 3 Men

South Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 7 (AP)—Plant Superintendent R. K. Turner discounted "almost entirely" today the possibility of sabotage as federal agents and state police investigated an explosion and fire which killed three men at the Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Corporation's huge plant.

H. K. Fox, 30-year-old painter, died early today of critical burns to increase the official toll to three.

Turner, after a check of the company's 4,000 employees, identified Forrest Norton Leavitt, 32, and H. M. Kelley, 60, as the others killed in yesterday's blast.

The plant, largest of the multi-million dollar chemical industry in the Kanawha river valley, suffered comparatively little damage in the localized explosion and the superintendent said operations would be resumed within two or three days.

The plant is situated on an island in the Kanawha river. Sections of the heavily guarded plant are producing national defense materials.

The blast occurred in the tank field where the company stores solvents used in making vinylite, a chemical plastic.

Midland, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP)—Walter Pedro, 26, was found dead in an automobile in Industry township yesterday, Beaver county's first fatality of the hunting season. Police theorized Pedro accidentally shot himself in the head while trying to get out of the car with a rifle.

Industrial School Investigation Opens

White Hill, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP)—A special committee named by Governor James to investigate the administration of the Boys' Industrial school here after the fatal shooting of an inmate during an attempted escape, has invited complaints from the 824 boys in the institution.

The inquiry was requested by Warden Henry C. Hill, who said there were "glaring inaccuracies" in certain editorial and newspaper criticisms which followed the fatal shooting of Paul Seifridge, 19-year-old Butler inmate, by a guard.

Two other boys were wounded and a fourth was captured unharmed when the quartet attempted to escape October 16.

Judge Fred S. Reese, of Cumberland county, chairman of the investigating committee, said those who accompanied Seifridge also would be questioned.

See your PHYSICIAN

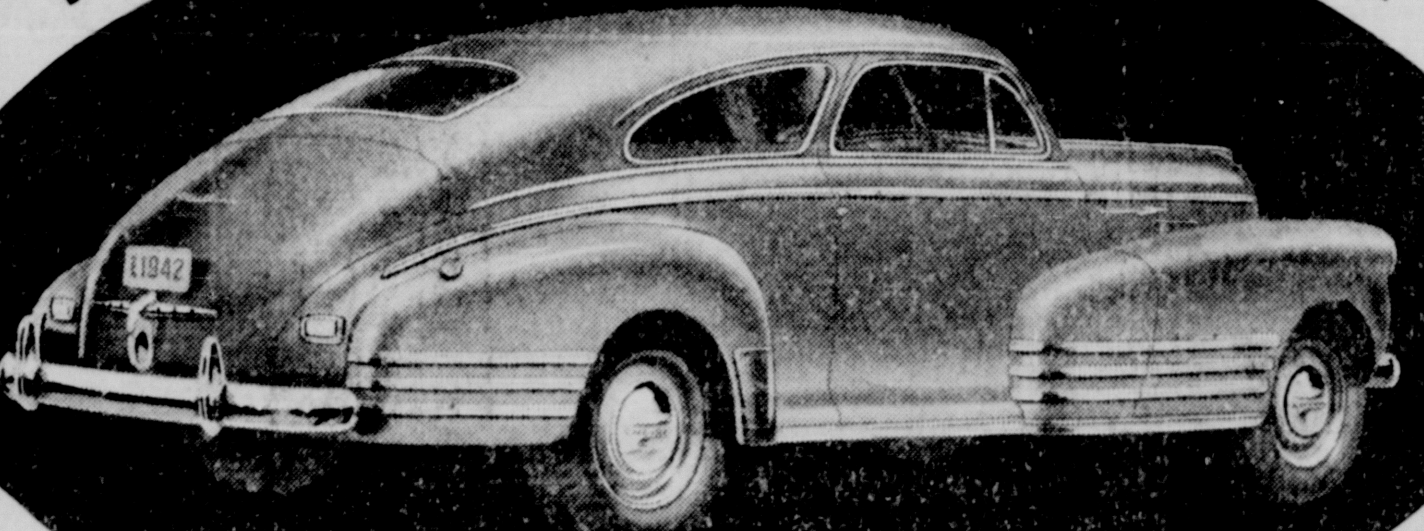

We often counsel our friends to "see a good Physician." We know it's excellent advice. But after all, that's only the first step. Not much use in paying out good money for a Physician's fees unless you are going to heed the sound counsel he gives you. Make up your mind now that you'll get well and stay well; that you'll "do exactly what your Physician suggests."

Yes, we think one of the first things your Physician will tell you is to bring his prescriptions here. It will be expertly compounded as he directs!

Chapter 22

Kentucky Bound

Sue Ellen stood gazing after him as he swung away toward the pullman window. So he had a plan—and she was not to know anything about it. Men were all alike—taking matters in their own hands and never thinking it necessary to discuss a vital question with a woman. He had a plan. Well, she had a plan too. It was all simple now. A plan which would not reveal the fact that blue dannel dress her heart was beating madly. Always Johnny Harris had promised that she could marry him on her own terms. The time had come to name those terms. When he came back he carried two tickets. "We're going by way of Kentucky," he remarked matter of factly. "It is easier to hurry up a marriage there."

"What, marriage?"
"Ours."

"You are quite sure that it isn't necessary to ask the girl whether she is willing?"

"Aren't you?"

She matched his lightness with her own. "Possibly. On my own terms."

Just for a minute an odd expression flickered across his fine face. "All right," he said then, "let's have them."

"Must we discuss them here?"
"Our train leaves in five minutes." "I'll decide on the train."

He shook his head. "There's a train for Memphis on Track Three—" He nodded toward the queue of passengers moving toward the gates.

"I have no idea of kidnapping a bride. That's not my idea, Miss Sue Ellen. But I can help your aunt only one way. She wouldn't accept help from me—she will from you. You can take over Belle Acres and restore it and, with my advice, put it on a paying basis, or you can take that train to Memphis and have your Aunt Car believe me a mountain of deceit to have taken Belle Acres away from her. She can't get it back through the Colonel—she can't borrow from the bank. The matter is in your hands entirely. Which shall it be, Memphis or Kentucky?"

Sue Ellen ordered her bag and carefully studied her makeup. She was marking time—She was scared to death. "Make your own terms," she kept repeating to herself—but could she? Could she? Could she enter into a cool, business bargain with Johnny Harris and never by a word or gesture reveal to him that she loved him sincerely.

"Well?"
"I wonder if it's snowing in Kentucky?" said Sue Ellen.

Johnny Harris grinned. "We'll soon find out." He caught her arm and hurried her forward. "We'll send your Aunt Car a telegram when we get the license." He smiled down at her and then sobered.

"Thanks a lot," he said gently. "My father will appreciate what you have done, and it was the only way to help the woman he has always cared for."

She nodded. She could not meet his eyes. What if he saw the tears in her eyes? He would think her nothing but a cry baby. He would never know how heartbreaking it was to know that apparently his only reason for marrying her was to help Aunt Car. His one plea, not that he loved her as he had told her before, but that by marrying him he could carry through a promise he had made his father.

Rings

On the trip from Washington to Kentucky, Sue Ellen met a different man from the one she had met in Tyler Springs, the man she had promised to marry. For the first time she realized how little she really did know this Johnny Harris. She knew him by his appearance, his military bearing, his quick smile, his steady glance. She knew that she could trust him, although she had no proof, only her instinct, a feeling of security, as they followed the crowd milling through the train gates.

"No regrets?" he asked as he surrendered their tickets.

She drew a deep sigh. Almost she turned to look back as though Riv might be following and by some coaxing trick persuade her to go back. Now there was no turning back.

"No regrets," she said, and her glance tangled with that steady grey glance and she caught a gleam of something stronger and deeper than mere liking—something she had not seen since they left Mississippi. Then just as quickly Johnny's face regained its expression of casual friendliness.

"As soon as you are settled, we'll talk things over," he suggested. And a half hour later they were seated opposite one another at a table in Sue Ellen's compartment with a mass of papers spread out before them.

"I don't know a thing about business," she told him, pushing aside the paper he was explaining. "I'm afraid you've made a bad bargain."

"Johnny," she encouraged.

"Johnny," she finished. The color arose in her face and she dropped her hands to her lap to hide their quivering.

"Your full name?" he asked in a clipped businesslike tone.

"Susan Eleanor Fairhope."

He slipped his thumb and forefinger in his vest pocket and brought up a small white box. "I guessed at the size." There was something eager and boyish in his eyes as he leaned forward. "Open it."

She took the box and opened it and stared wide-eyed at the two rings nestling on a white satin cushion.

"Like them?"
"They're beautiful."

"Look inside."

"To Sue Ellen from Johnny." The date was the following day.

"I thought we might not be able to make all the arrangements to-night, for we'll get in late, but tomorrow—" He looked up quickly, his voice uncertain. He bit his lip and said shyly: "You see, I've never been married before."

There was a moment of awkward silence.

"But this is just a bargain—" She had made the decision to say this while she waited for him to come to her compartment. She would name her own terms. When she was sure that he cared as she cared—she did not dare to think of that. It must wait. Now they would plan for just one thing—to restore Belle Acres.

"I understand," he said curtly.

Fencing
What could you do when the man you loved never questioned your silly proposition. What could you do but talk about land values and property transfers and how much acreage could be put into cotton and where one could find the necessary labor and what repairs could be made now and what must wait until spring.

For you must show Johnny Harris that you had a mind as well as a heart. You must win his admiration and respect—you must be worthy of his ring which you wore on your finger.

All this ran through Sue Ellen's mind as she struggled to understand what Johnny meant, and sat with her dark head bent over the papers, her curls tumbled and falling about her face. Once Johnny's hand touched her hair and she saw the hot color mount in his tanned face and her heart sang, while she accepted the pencil he offered and laughed with him at her attempts to add up a column of figures.

"I can't add," she sighed.

"Neither can I at the minute—" Then he shook back the lock of brown hair which fell over his forehead and smiled up at her. "Shall we finish this after lunch?"

They lingered over the lunch so long, they were now alone in the diner. The box with the rings was back in Johnny's pocket, but he brought it out again and pushed it toward her. "You didn't try them on."

She held out her two bare hands. She had slipped off Riv's ring this morning and it lay in her handbag. She said: "Well?"

He took her left hand in his and held it while he slid the ring over

Man Seized In Town Admits Starting Fire

Taken into custody in Gettysburg Wednesday at the direction of local State Motor Police, Moses Carter, 21-year-old negro of Coatesville was returned to Chambersburg and following questioning by motor police there, assertedly admitted responsibility for a fire early Wednesday morning that destroyed a frame storage shed on the Harper Brechbiel farm near Mariou. The fire, which destroyed the building, caused damage estimated at $1,000.

Police quoted Carter as saying he was returning to his home after visiting in Hagerstown and entered the storage shed, situated along the Molly Pitcher highway, to sleep. Apparently falling asleep with a cigarette in his hand, Carter said he was awakened by the odor of smoke. Much of the interior of the building was aflame when he awoke, the negro youth told police.

After a brief and futile effort to extinguish the blaze, Carter said he fled from the scene. The fire subsequently was discovered by three Greencastle election board officials, returning home after reporting the results of Tuesday's election.

Seen fleeing from the shed, Carter subsequently was seen in Greencastle Wednesday attempting to hitch-hike a ride towards Gettysburg. Police sent a teletype description of the youth to motor police in Adams county and he was taken into custody here.
